

【Nagano Prefecture is a SDGs Future City】

SDGs are the targets that all people in the world pursue, aiming for a beautiful society where everyone can continue to live in safety.

Our Efforts to Achieve the Regional Circular and Ecological Economy in Nagano

Sustainable Energy Policy Division,
Nagano Prefectural Government

The Regional Circulating and Ecological Economy Decarbonized Society/100% Renewable Energy (RE) Regions

Decarbonized Society and SDGs

2013

Nagano's Strategy on Sustainable Energy (2013-2020)

Target of GHG reduction: 36% by 2030 compared to 2013 (Japan's target: 26%)

Best Long Term Targets Awards

2017

Local Renewables Conference 2017 in Nagano

Nagano Declaration: Achievement of 100% Renewable energy Cities and Regions

Designated as a SDGs Future City

2019

Nagano Declaration was announced during the G20 Ministers' Meeting
Call to collaboration with local governments of the world to promote Circulating and Ecological Economy

The Regional Circulating and Ecological Economy (Zero Carbon Declaration)

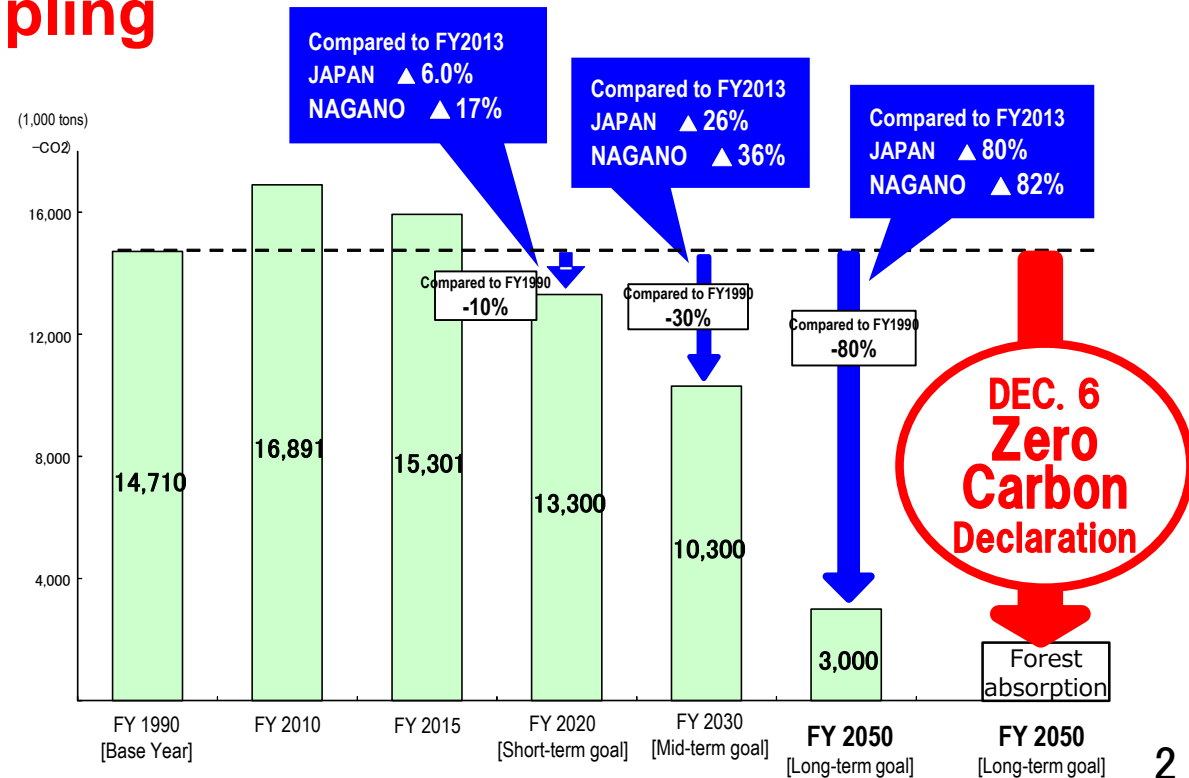

Principal target of the Strategy

Build society on sustainable and low-carbon energy

Build mechanism to achieve energy consumption and GHG emission reduction as well as economic growth

Trends and reduction target of GHG emissions in Nagano Pref.

Global Expansion of the Regional Circular and Ecological Economy

Damage in Nagano done by Typhoon Hagibis

Specific initiatives

- Tree planting and urban greenery
- Disaster-resilient region independent and distributed energy systems
- Comprehensive flood control in response to climate change
- Communicating ecotourism and other attractive features of Nagano to the world

Based on the declaration

Nagano Prefecture will respond to the climate change from two aspects Mitigation and Adaptation to build cities that are disaster-resilient to protect the lives of our future

Our expectations

To promote global networking and create a partnership scheme among local governments and other stakeholders, and to receive support from the national government

